Karen,
always remember the fun we've had, especially those wild parties! & have enjoyed going to school with you.
Good Luck,

Karen,
Highschool has really been a blast! You are a really nice girl (short too) and it has been swell knowing you these long years we have spent together. Remember the time we had planning Initiation?!?
Stay sweet and the best of luck always.

Dedication

Every year there is one person who reveres himself as outstanding in the eyes of his admirers and contemporaries. This year, we especially want to acknowledge the help and encouragement of our business education teacher, Mr. Forest Zimpfer. Because of your noteworthy accomplishments, both among your friends and in your profession, we gratefully dedicate this, the '63 Pointer, to you.

Senior Trip

MAY 12-16, 1963

The Class of '63 took their annual Senior class trip to Washington, D. C. on this date. While there, they stayed at the Sheraton Park Hotel; some of the points of interest visited by the class were: the battlefield at Gettysburg, Penn., the Washington Monument, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Wax Museum, the Marine Memorial, Bureau of Printing & Engraving, F. B. I. Building, Washington Cathedral, Arlington National Cemetery, White House, Capitol Building, Smithsonian Institute, and the Supreme Court Building. On the return trip, the class had a stopover in Chicago and took a brief tour of the city before the trip home.

The Senior Class play, "KEEP MOVING", was a comedy inspired play about a family who has the problem of having a number of eccentric characters move into their home. All of the people claim to have legal right to reside there, and the end result proved to be hilarious. A cutting from "Othello" preceded the play.

Freshman Initiation

The annual Freshman Initiation at CPHS consisted of a mixture of a mixture of hilarious costumes, punishments, and a generous portion of all-around good fun. The costumes represented those worn from the different nations of the world; the punishments took place in the high school auditorium following the skits presented by the Freshmen. A picnic at the Lewis Bottom Access followed the occasion.

Karon,
As the saying goes "little but mighty" (personality wise, etc.)
It's been fun doing everything together, even working at the Hulf was fun after we woke up and got use to Paul Pewberry's drivers etc.
Hope we can always keep in touch.
God bless you and best of luck always. Retha

Karon,
Remember all the times you have made me feel happy and given me confidence.
Hope we see more of each other in the future.
Loads of luck.
